MSDN Academic Alliance - Student Use Guidelines

As a member of the MSDN Academic Alliance, the department in which you take credit courses is authorized to provide you with program software for use on your personal computer. To be in compliance with the MSDN Academic Alliance program requirements, you must follow these usage guidelines when using the program software on your computer. You must also agree to the terms of the MSDN End User License Agreement (EULA), the Academic Use Addendum to the End User License Agreement, and any conditions required by your Department.

The MSDN Site administrator at your school will be responsible for maintaining records of student use and ensuring there is full compliance with the program among all department users, including students, faculty and systems administrators staff. Please see your Site administrator for any questions that you may have about the program, or refer to www.msdna.net.

By installing, copying, or otherwise using the Product, you agree to be bound by the terms of the EULA and the Online Addendum. If you do not agree to be bound, do not install, copy or use the Product.

Installation Guidelines:

- Your department will provide either server access for you to download program software, or may create up to 50 copies of the software to be checked out on a temporary basis to install on personal use computers. All software requested for checkout will be a complete copy, and include all copyright and trademark notices.
- You must be registered in at least one credit course within the member department to be eligible to load program software on your personal use computer. Members registered only for non-credit courses in the department are not eligible to receive program software.
- You may not give copies of licensed software to anyone else for their use. Other faculty/students must obtain software via the method's set up by the MSDN Site administrator.
- In order to install certain components of the Product, you may need an Academic Alliance Product Key (CheckOut Key). The Product Key will be assigned to units to download authorized software. You may not use the Product Key information to anyone else.
- Upon an Site administrator will maintain records of software downloaded from server to check out, and will provide access records to Microsoft upon request.

Usage Guidelines:

- You may use the Software for non-commercial purposes including educational use, research, and in design, development and testing, or for class assignment and tests or personal projects. You may not use the program software for any further software development.
- When you are no longer a member of a Department that is a member of the MSDN Academic Alliance, you may no longer receive software for your personal use computer. However, you may continue to use previously installed software on one computer, provided you continue to follow program guidelines.
- If you violate the terms of the License Agreement and EULA, the MSDN Program administrator will demand cessation of use of the program software on your personal use computer.
